WOLFE COUNTY.

Lane Locals.

"Success to the HERALD" is the expression of many.

Rev. Whisman is preparing to organize a Sunday-school at different school-houses.

"Brad Mattoon" (Benj. Sewell) and McKinley Sewell went to Campton Saturday on business.

Taylor Sewell paid his sister, Mrs. M. F. Horton, of Campton, a flying visit Saturday and Sunday.

There is spot "Kash" by the whole-sale at Amanda Hollon's every now and then. No monetary crisis there!

Died, on the 8th inst., the wife of Henry Faulkner, who lives on Devil's creek, near the Hunting fork of Holly.

Singing and preaching both have a divine inspiration and constitute the program on Holly on Saturdays and Sundays.

Ison Walkins, while drunk a few days since, accidentally shot himself with a pistol, the ball taking effect in the thigh.

Joe Cundiff, of Cane creek, a popular young man, was on Holly recently. It is rumored that he owns a mill and is hunting for a "Miller."

Benj. Sewell went to Campton last Saturday (to deliver an address on "Evil Associations" and for other purposes that apply to the secret of the hearts).

Bob Miller moves around the counter with all the avidity of a peanut vender, but Mr. Elkins says that Congleton will always beat him selling "bark hats."

The church being put up by J. R. Elkins at this place is nearing completion. All denominations of good-standing will be free to preach in it, exclusive privileges allowed to none.

James Banks, familiarly known as "Hoody" (spell it Ed.), and family, who have had free access to the balmy breezes of Tennessee the past year, have come back to old Holly.

C. C. Hanks, of Campton, who owns a fine lot of lumber in this locality on the Bee branch, will have it hauled to the railroad soon for the market. Wait Lum, till the railroad runs through Campton.

Harden Hurst went to see his best girl recently, and as he came back I was disguised and heard him saying:

"Oa Rachel, if you love me as I love you, We will have no time to tarry; We'll have the old folks fazing up For you and me to marry."

Among our people who would be exceedingly glad for a log tide to come in the creeks of Holly are J. A. Sewell, G. W. Tyra, Z. T. and S. Hurst, as they have each a fine lot of saw logs ready to float out into the river.

Fellow-citizens of Morgan and Wolfe, I belong to the Republican party, whose record is unblemished and whose principles are pure and undefiled, and I want you to elect a Republican to the Legislature, but if you wont do it, allow me to give three cheers for Swango.

Revs. Henry Taylor, "Buck" Fleuchum and G. W. Tyra, preached on the first Sunday of this month at the Bailey Field school-house to a large and well-behaved audience. After preaching, the congregation repaired to the water and witnessed the baptism of five converts. Rev. Logan Johnson preached at the same place in the evening.

William J. Hollon sallied forth from these parts last Saturday for Morgan county to see his lady love, taking with him his brother and John Graham. Why John and Tom went is beyond our comprehension, but rumor has it that "Billy" intends to put up a telephone wire from a Mr. Murphy's, in Morgan county, to his home in Holly, and that John and Tom intend to take the job, and want to select the most convenient route. John says if he can get the money on this job and a "Nickel" out of Morgan county his future life will be one of luxury and unalloyed happiness. BRAD MATTOON.

Success to THE HERALD and railroad.

We had a heavy rain and hail here Sunday.

John Moore's wife is said to be very low with fever.

G. M. Byrd, of Grassy, visited the family of S. H. Rose, Saturday and Sunday.

Uncle James Sample, who has been down for some time, is but little better at this time.

Rev. W. T. Lykins was at his church here Saturday and Sunday. He seems to be a favorite with his church.

W. B. Barker visited his brother John Barker Saturday and Sunday, accompanied by Miss Ellen Williams and a Miss Olfelds.

J. W. Combs had a fine young colt killed one day last week by a mule. Its muleship slung it around by the back of the neck so severely that when it let loose the colt could not get up.

Rev. B. F. Slater, the reformed Catholic, who has been preaching on the Kentucky river and in Lee county for some time, preached at the New Hope church Saturday and Sunday to an attentive audience. As he could tell us much about the Catholics he interested all who heard him. He gives many reasons why he left the Catholics. While he seems to be a man in delicate health he is a deep reasoner on the Bible. He went from here to Campton and Bear Pen to preach. He will preach at the church house on Laurel next Saturday night and Sunday, then go to Hazel Green.

Z. T. Hurst and others, from Campton, were in this place last Friday and Saturday taking the right of way for the railroad and had splendid success, only meeting with two parties who would not sign the right of way, and it is hoped that they will reconsider the matter and sign yet. They both seem to want the road, but think the damage would be too heavy on them. Every one in this county is in favor of doing all they can to secure the road, as every farmer should be, for W. E. Buchanan says since the road has been talked of he has got in the notion of farming and raising stock. He says he has three ewes that have seven nice living lambs. Bring another railroad. SMITH.

MORGAN COUNTY.

Caney Oullings.

Corn planting is all the go.

Jackson Burton and Brice Stacy are engaging all the apples they can to still this summer and fall.

Married, May 6, at the residence of the bride's father, Andrew J. Wells and Miss Mary J. Haucy. May they live long and be happy.

There was a meeting at Walnut Grove church last Saturday and Sunday. James Wheeler preached to a large and well-behaved congregation. NED.

Sunday-School Convention.

The following letter was received this week by W. O. Mize, superintendent of the Sunday-school of the Christian church, and after consultation with the superintendent of the Union Sunday-school, it was decided that the time named in the letter would be agreeable to all, and it is to be hoped that we will have a large attendance on this occasion:

CAMPTON, Ky., May 18, 1895.—W. O. Mize—Sir: Our Sunday-school here on last Sunday agreed to hold the county convention in your town, and fixed the 8th and 9th of June as the days of meeting. Hope this will suit all the people over there. You see the superintendent of the Methodist Sunday-school and make an agreement as to the hour of meeting, and have it published in THE HERALD. I would suggest that we meet at 10 a. m. on Saturday. Yours, S. S. COMBS.

Letter From Missouri.

NEOSHO, Mo., May 24, 1895.—It has been some time since I wrote my first letter to the dear old HERALD, and as I promised to write again I will endeavor to write a few lines that will interest the many readers of your worthy paper.

Southern Missouri is somewhat like Kentucky, rough and hilly, but there are no mountains. The upland is adapted to fruit growing. There are thousands of acres set in young apple orchards, and the prospect for a big apple crop was never better. The valley land is a black gravelly loam, easy farmed, and is adapted to corn, wheat and grasses of all kinds. A crop failure is unknown in this part of Missouri. Neosho, the county seat of Newton county, is a nice, well-built city of 4,000 inhabitants, beautifully situated on Shoal creek, at the mouth of Hickory creek. Neosho is near the center of the county, and the St. Louis and San Francisco railroad and the Kansas City, Pittsburg and Southern crosses at Neosho, making it a good shipping point. Neosho is a manufacturing town. There are five wagon factories, three roller steam grist mills, two harness factories, carriage factory, machine shops, plow factory, steam laundry, cannery factory, United States fish hatchery, steam woolen mill, and many other industries too numerous to mention. This county is well watered, nice clear springs gushing out of the hill-sides on nearly every half section. There is 30,000 acres of land yet for sale in this county at from $7.00 to $10.00 per acre. Most all the people in this part of Missouri are old Kentuckians, and some are from Virginia and North Carolina. Farmers here are expecting a big crop this year. Corn is up and looking nice; wheat will do to harvest in about six weeks; oats are looking fine, and there will be a large crop of fruit of all kinds. But Missouri has her drawbacks as other States, and there is no place like old Kentucky. I have often thought I would like to go back and live there the rest of my life.

As this letter is too long already I will close, hoping that Hazel Green will get the railroad in the near future. Success to THE HERALD, and may it live long and prosper. Yours very truly, W. H. SLIMP.

Killing Frost in Fifteen States.

CHICAGO, May 12.—The weather bureau, in a report on the frost last night, says: "The frost area reported this morning is unusually extensive and severe for this time of the year, frost having occurred this morning in all of the fifteen states for which it was forecast Saturday. In the peach belt of Michigan, the cranberry marshes of Wisconsin, temperature below freezing occurred, and the frost was of a killing nature."

MILWAUKEE, May 12.—Northern and western sections of the state report a heavy frost last night. Fruit buds and garden truck are ruined at Chippewa Falls. Marinette reports all crops injured. At New Lisbon small fruits and grain were killed. A heavy ruin is falling there. The berry crop was destroyed at Boocobol.

FT. WAYNE, IND., May 12.—A heavy frost this morning, but the extreme dry weather of the past few weeks saved the fruit crop from destruction. The weather still quite cold, and the danger is not past.

MARSHALLTOWN, IOWA, May 12.—Frost in this section this morning nipped the early crop of corn, potatoes and tender garden truck quite severely. Fruit was not materially injured, except grapes may be killed.

BELLEFONTAINE, OHIO, May 12.—There was a very heavy frost here last night. Gardens and fruit are badly injured and it is feared the wheat is hurt.

THE ROPE ROUTE.

G. Hocker, Mayor of Stanford, Ky., hangs himself.

Dr. S. G. Hocker, mayor of Stanford, Ky., committed suicide on the 8th inst. by hanging himself in his meat house. He was discovered by the cook. When the body was taken down by Dr. W. B. O'Bannon he was not quite extinct. Efforts were made to revive him, but without avail.

The rope used was a small cotton one, and he jumped off a pyramid made of a barrel and a half bushel measure. His neck was not broken and he died from strangulation.

The following letter was found in his pocket, together with one to his wife, and another to his two children, and another containing his will.

"To W. P. Walton, editor of the Interior-Journal: As there will probably be a good deal of comment on my death, I will say to you, and you can publish it if you see proper, that the cause of it is entirely on account of domestic troubles that I have silently endured for a long time. I loved my family dearly, and tried by every means I knew how to live in peace and harmony, but failing I can stand it no longer. While I have enemies, as you know, who have set up a regular system of persecution on account of my conscientious views on some subjects that I had the manliness to avow and act upon, these have given me no trouble, and I would like to have vindicated myself in the minds of all just thinking people."

"S. G. HOCKER."

The persecution Dr. Hocker has reference to was the continued effort of his enemies to prove that he was selling whiskey illegally at his drug store. Dr. Hocker was a good man, but made many enemies by his independence and frankness in speech. He was 62 years old and was twice married.

A wife and three children survive him. He leaves a comfortable estate. Up to a few years ago Dr. Hocker was a strict Presbyterian, but his religious views underwent a wonderful change. In fact, he had almost become an atheist. He was a constant reader of the Blue Grass Blade, and was one of Editor Moore's sympathizers.

Sam Jones on the Trotter.

Sam Jones is called a crank by most people, but there is no wheel in his head on the subject of trotting. Here is his opinion on that subject, says an exchange:

"Now, I like a thing that goes. I think that Nancy Hanks is a much higher-bred animal than Sullivan or Corbett. No poor mules can get in a kick. And I will tell you one thing, that Nancy Hanks is a thing of power and beauty and speed; she is a well made animal, and I love to see her go. I tell you to stand at the side of a race track and see a half-dozen race horses prancing for the start, and watch them when the word is given, how they leap and plunge; and then see them on the home stretch, with nostrils distended, and see them on the last 100 feet with neck to neck, and nose to nose. Why, Brother, preacher as I am, I would go one eye on that. But I have not seen a horse race in 20 years, and never expect to see another. Not that I don't like a thoroughbred horse, but I can't stand the dirty, scrubby little devils that stand around them. The horse is a thoroughbred, but the little fellows that do the betting are scrubs; and if you will breed upon your men I will go to the horse race. They tried to get me to preach against the race horses. I said: 'I can't do it; I like them.' I said:

"You got a ranch over here in the bluegrass region, and you will get a colt worth $50, but you bring up boys that you can't sell three for $1. And I will tell you, if you don't cross the breed on the people, they will run to razor back hogs in about four more generations—the thing is going down."

The Law in Examining Trials.

Under the law when a person is brought before an examining court charged with murder, or any other felony, the court must hear the evidence, and if there are reasonable grounds for believing him to be guilty, he must be held to the circuit court. If, on the other hand, the court believes from the evidence that there are not reasonable grounds for believing the defendant guilty of a public offense, the court will acquit him.

The coroner's jury exceeds its authority when it passes upon the guilt or innocence of any one. Its duty is to inquire and say in writing in what manner the person whose body is before them came to his death—when, how and by whom, and who were present, and who are culpable of the act.

The examining court, from the evidence, must say whether there are reasonable grounds for believing the defendant guilty; and if the evidence is such as to be good in self-defense, or want of proof to convict, the defendant should and does go acquit.

The action of an examining court in a felony case is not final, and the grand jury may open the case and investigate it as if the examining court had never acted.

Caught in Michigan.

Officer Tom McHenry of Louisville, was in Frankfort a few days since en route from Salersville, Md., where he had been arrested in the case of Henry N. Noble, of Louisville. Noble was indicted for the crime of seducing a young sister of the Hon. J. A. McHenry, ex-governor of Maryland, and fled to Kentucky. McHenry brought him back to Kentucky last week. As Noble has many relatives and friends in Jackson, the officer, with his prisoner handcuffed to him, avoided the danger of a rescue by taking a circuitous route to Salersville by going by way of Catlettsburg.

The feeling toward Noble in Salersville is very bitter, officer McHenry says, and unless the young man should compromise the matter by marrying the girl, by whom she has a child, there is likely to be trouble in store for him.—Louisville Post.

The international convention of Y. M. C. A. were in session last week at Springfield, Mass.

A Speedy and Permanent Cure

For Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Gout, Lumbago and all other diseases where a general warming, quickening, strengthening and equalization of the circulation is required. It will last for years, gives no shock, and but a mild, soothing sensation in wearing it. No waiting a long time for results. It acts quickly, generally the first week, more frequently the first day, and sometimes even in the first hour its curative powers are felt. It is inexpensive, harmless in operation, while simple in application, containing neither discounting or heinous violence. Though marvelous in the results it has achieved, its seeming simplicity has the effect of causing many to doubt its efficacy. It is in many instances you will feel a very pleasant sensation the moment it is properly adjusted to your little finger. In proof of the above statement I will refer you to the following most estimable ladies and gentlemen:

J. W. Sparks, W. H. Phillips, Wm. Handy, E. Schneider, Mrs. Morton Funk, Mrs. G. R. Taylor, Sam Smith, J. W. Carroll, Ben Spahr, David Arnold.

And a hundred others if necessary. Many of these would not take $1,000 for their ring and be compelled to do with out one. They cost only $2. No other ring will answer for the same purpose. No medicine, no bad taste in your mouth, but a nice ring, pleasing sensation, and relieving of excruciating pains. Old folks become young and vigorous.

LATE STATE NEWS.

At Salversville, on the 11th inst., Mich Cole was given a life sentence in the penitentiary for the murder of John Jackson about a year ago.

Mrs. James Price, of Rush, is in jail at Ashland, charged with the murder of an 8-year old adopted child. Mr. Price will probably be arrested for complicity.

Two of Wesley Rowe's children played with powder near Salversville, last Friday afternoon. An explosion occurred, and one of the little ones was fatally injured. The other suffered the loss of both eyes.

Isaac Thomas, colored, of Lexington, has been arrested as accessory to the murder of Volney L. Baird, an account of which will be found in this paper. Thomas carried a note from Hall to Baird asking him to come to Hall's house.

All the presidential postoffices in Kentucky, with the exception of Georgetown, Carlisle and London, are now in the hands of Democrats. The Republican incumbent at Georgetown will be the next to go.

After devoting three days to the examination of witnesses in the case of senator William Gobel for killing John L. Sandford, the wealthy banker, the grand jury concluded its work without reporting any indictment against the accused.

The Southern Baptist convention have adopted a report of the committee on tithing, by which state conventions, district associations, pastors, churches and missionary societies are called upon to contribute systematically, for the advancement of the gospel, not less than one-tenth of their incomes.

The citizens of Hindman, the county seat of Knott county, have subscribed $5,000 for the construction of a telephone to that place from Deale, Floyd county. Hindman, the little mountain town, is coming forward in the way of advancement. Prof. Geo. A. Clarke has established a fine school there. As good public buildings cannot be found elsewhere in the mountains. J. Bailey, one of her accomplished lawyers, has lately erected, at a cost of more than $40,000, one of the largest buildings in the mountains. It consists of a first-class hotel, livery stable, several family residences, and a large store room, all under one roof.

James H. Swango will make the race for the legislature from the counties of Wolfe and Morgan. Mr. Swango is a graduate of Centre college and is an office student of ex-Governor Knott. He will be remembered by our readers as the young man who won the prize in college oratorical contests of Kentucky and afterwards at the national contest at Chicago. His people will be glad to honor him. —Georgetown Enterprise.

Henry L. Godsey and wife will be here by the first of next month from Washington City, on a visit to his parents and to attend the singing exercises of the school at this place.

ANOTHER KILLING IN LEXINGTON.

Terrible Tragedy at the Home of Albert S. Hall.

About 8 o'clock on the morning of the 10th inst., Albert S. Hall, a grocer, living at Fourth and Jefferson streets, shot and killed his clerk, Volney Baird, in his (Hall's) home.

There has been bad feeling between Hall and Baird for some time, due, it is said, to Baird's alleged intimacy with Hall's wife. Notwithstanding that the men had no love for each other after Hall discovered the relation of Baird with his wife, Baird continued to clerk for Hall. On Wednesday they were fishing together.

This morning at a rather early hour Hall sent for Baird to come to his house, and when he reached there Hall confronted Baird and his wife with the information he had of their relations. Baird and Mrs. Hall, it is claimed, acknowledged their relations. Hall then told Baird that he intended to leave his wife, and that he (Baird) must support her.

They were in the front room of Hall's home when this conversation occurred, and when it was finished Hall took his hat and started to leave the house. Baird, it is said, seized him before he could cross the threshold, and a desperate struggle ensued. They fought all over the room, knocking chairs over, breaking lamps and doing other damage. Finally they struggled to the door leading to the hallway, when Hall drew his revolver and shot Baird. The ball entered his head just below the left eye and penetrated the brain. Baird dropped to the floor and died instantly.

In a statement made by Hall he said:

"About twelve months ago my wife was told some rather bad tales on me. My wife got me to hire a clerk in order that I might remain at home at nights. From that time Baird commenced telling my wife injurious stories about me. 'Baird took board at my house in July last and told my wife that I was intimate with tough women and had a woman at Alexandria, Indiana, and one or two in Lexington. I went to my sister about these stories, and told her that my family affairs had been ruined, my wife losing confidence in me.

"Baird had trained my wife to hate me. On Sunday evening, about three weeks ago, Baird had criminal relations with my wife in my own house, and this was not the first time. I set a trap for them and caught them, and they acknowledged it.

"I told Baird to leave the house. I sent for Baird this morning to come down to my house. He took a seat in one corner of the room and I sat in another corner. I told Baird that I was going to leave my wife and he must take care of her. I talked with him for some little time.

"Baird was between me and the door. I got my hat and again told Baird that I was going away. My wife was in the room and came over and took hold of my chair. When I started from the room Baird grabbed me. We then clinched, he knocked me around and pushed me out in the hall. In our scuffle my pistol went off. Baird had hold of the hand in which I held the pistol. He twisted this hand and I pulled the trigger, when the weapon was discharged the second time.

"When the first shot was fired my wife ran from the room. I grabbed one of my children and ran on the bed until the officers arrived and placed me under arrest." —Lexington Leader.

THE HERALD.

FOR THE LEGISLATURE.
We are authorized to announce Hon. G. GORNEY, of Hazel Green, as a candidate to represent Wolfe and Morgan counties in the next legislature; subject to the action of the Democratic party.

DANVILLE, Ky., April 20, 1895.
Honorable Mr. GORNEY, of Morgan and Wolfe Counties:
At the solicitation of many friends in Morgan and Wolfe, who have given me much encouragement, and prompted by a desire (pardonable, I trust), to represent my district in the next general assembly, I have decided, after due consideration, to become a candidate for Representative, subject to the action of the Democratic party. I am now in the office of ex-Governor Proctor Knott, and a member in the senior class in the law department of Centre College. I expect to finish my work here about the 15th of May, when I shall return to my home in Wolfe county and personally solicit your support. Thanking the many who have so generously extended their best wishes toward me, and trusting that I may be found worthy of your consideration, I remain, Respectfully,
JAMES H. SWANGO.

We are authorized to announce JOSEPH LYKINS, of Campton, as a candidate to represent Wolfe and Morgan counties in the next legislature, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

FOR RAILROAD COMMISSIONER.
We are authorized to announce JOHN E. WOOD, of Montgomery county, as a candidate for the office of Railroad Commissioner in the next legislative session, subject to the action of the Republican party.

R. E. Mannin, and family, of Ezel, moved to Missouri last week.

Miss Emma Shimp paid this office a pleasant call Tuesday evening.

Several droves of cattle went to market this week from Morgan county.

Mrs. Tom Lumpkin, of Ezel, was visiting the family of Mrs. F. N. Day last week.

James Russell, who was shot in Breathitt county last week, died Monday night.

Ben Quicksall went to West Liberty Monday. Can Ben be Nealing at some shrine?

Five men were shot in Breathitt county last week, with three prospects to hear from.

Hon. Wm. H. Taulbee, of Lee City, is visiting his son, Dr. J. A. Taulbee, on the heights.

In the notice last week of a visit, the name should have read Mrs. Hargis instead of Mrs. Hager.

An article entitled "Evil Associations" was handed in too late for this issue but will appear next week.

Mrs. Sexton, (nee Miss Clara Wills), is dangerously ill at her father's home, Jordan Wills, near Maytown.

Jimmie Swango will fill the position of Prof. Cord at the academy during that gentleman's absence at Cynthia.

Miss Laura Rawlings was confined to her room some days this week with an attack of "much needed rest."

Rowdism.
If the parties who made Saturday night appear like a battle was being fought in our usually quiet town, would spend less money for powder and more to educate their depraved brain, the citizens of the town and those who visit among us would rest more secure, and those participating in such fool-hardy sport would command the respect of the people instead of their condemnation. We need a jail here for all such offenders of law, a marshal who will discharge his duties without fear or favor, and an impartial judge, and not until we have these three requisites to the good government of our town can we reasonably expect to have good order.

The Place To Buy Goods.
The attention of our readers is directed to the column advertisement of Alfred Combs & Sons. This reliable firm will sell you anything in their line as cheap as the cheapest for spot cash. They pay cash for their goods, and consequently they can sell at a profit. They are polite to their customers, warrant everything they represent, buy from first hands, and consequently are successful merchants. Before buying in your supplies you would save money by giving them a call.

Dentistry.
A. Schwartz and Z. H. Bell, dentists, are now located at Mrs. Ellen Kash's, Hazel Green, Kentucky, where they will remain until Thursday, May 23, 1895. Parties needing dental work done will do well to avail themselves of the services of these gentlemen, as we have reason to believe they are first-class workmen. Charges reasonable. They are specially prepared to make plates. Don't forget the date.

Cut Worms.
The man who discovers a remedy to destroy cut worms has a chance to immortalize himself. Never, in the recollection of the oldest inhabitant, were they so plentiful as now, and they are causing the farmers a deal of trouble. Henry Stamper found 150 in a place that he could cover with his hat. They are very much like the army worm which are destroying the crops in Ohio and Indiana this season.

Sad Intelligence.
Mrs. W. T. Caskey, of this place, received the sad intelligence this week of the death of her sister, Mrs. Mary B. Coulter, which event occurred in Neosho, Mo., on the 6th inst. Mrs. Coulter visited this place some time ago, and made many friends while here. She was a true christian lady. Mrs. Caskey has the sympathies of her many friends in this sad bereavement.

OH for Cynthia.
Prof. Wm. H. Cord, accompanied by Eugene E. Atkinson, Morgan French and S. M. Nickell left yesterday for Cynthia, to be present at the oratorical contest which takes place there to-night. Hazel Green Academy will be represented by the gifted young orator, E. E. Atkinson, who, we trust, will return wearing the medal of honor.

Rheumatism Cured.
Rheumatism is caused by lactic acid in the blood attacking the fibrous tissues of the joints. Keep your blood pure and healthy and you will not have rheumatism. Hood's Sarsaparilla gives the blood vitality and richness and tones the whole body, neutralizes the acidity of the blood and thus cures rheumatism.

Hood's PILLS are the best after-dinner pills, assist digestion, cure headache.

J. T. Day returned home yesterday from an extended business trip to Winchester and other points.

Rivers Epworth League held an interesting and instructive service at the residence of John Davis last Saturday night. The committee of this organization are thorough christian workers, and the seeds sown by them will doubtless yield a rich harvest for the Master. Their next meeting will be held at the residence of Crook Coldiron on Saturday night, and the subject of hypocrisy will engage their attention.

You cannot judge a remedy until you know its father and mother, and so understand the responsibility for its existence. Ramon's Tonic Liver Pills is based upon the formula of one of the greatest physicians of the last century, and its wonderful success in curing completely all forms of biliousness and liver trouble is due to the remarkable compounding of its ingredients. Have you ever tried it for sick headache? It costs but 25c a box. Sample pill free.

W. H. Nickell and J. M. Havens, two of the best men of Hazel Green, Ky., in town Friday and Saturday evening on the fair grounds—Oquirrhille-Outlet. Monroe, during spare moments, says he would like to have more business, and Harve contemplates adding a millinery emporium to his line of trade.

Whooping Cough.
There is no danger from this disease when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is freely given. It liquefies the tough mucus and aids its expectoration. It also lessens the severity and frequency of paroxysms of coughing, and insures a speedy recovery. There is not the least danger in giving the remedy to children or babies, as it contains no injurious substance. For sale by John M. Rose.

John H. Pieratt, administrator, will sell, on Saturday next, at 2 p. m., at the late residence of Thomas Peirory, one-half mile southeast of town, (the old Gibbs place) all of the household and kitchen furniture, one fine milch cow, 14-year old mare, and 1 fine sow, the property of Thomas Peirory, dec'd.

Will Colvin and John F. Jones paid their when they got ready to come-to-see-her visit on Saturday evening last, remaining over Sunday. They are both politically inclined, and as it requires Kash to run a campaign, it keeps the boys hustling.

ELECTROPOISE.

Rev. John I. Rogers, Danville, Ky. It is a mystery to me, almost a miracle.
Rev. Z. Meek, Catlettsburg, Ky. I have used the Electropoise for five years and find it invaluable as a curative agent, especially in effluence in cases of feeble women and delicate children.
Rev. Robert Barrett, Louisville Baptist Seminary. Electropoise cured after all other remedies failed.
Rev. W. W. Bruce, Hustonville, Ky. Electropoise cured opium habit.
Rev. Geo. Means, Covington, Ky. In one night the Electropoise relieved brain congestion and vertigo.

We could fill this paper with similar reports, but think it sufficient to interest you in sending for book on the subject of health. Electropoise rented four months for $10.00.

FIGS AND THISTLES.

Sam's Horn Philosophy Which all May Read and Heed.

Bright things are not always good things.

The first step toward the devil is always very short.

When our friends leave us God can come very close.

A "no harm" sinner is about the hardest to reach.

The pathway of the reformer is generally all up hill.

Anybody can make enemies, but only the Christian can love them.

When the devil is nearest to us he smells the least of brimstone.

Life can only be bitter to those who do not know that God is love.

A man in earnest about his soul will be in earnest about everything he does.

No true servant of the Lord should ever be ashamed of his business.

Pigs have been washed, but none have ever been cured of their love for mud.

No power but that of the Holy Spirit can produce holiness of heart and life.

It is better not to fast than to do it in a way that gives the devil all the benefit.

The dove seller has no more right to be in the temple than the dealer in cattle.

The less blood there is in a sermon the more compliments the preacher will get.

Have an eye single to the glory of God, if you have to give up a right eye to do it.

The religion that would kill a smile on the face of a child does not come from God.

Many who are born in sight of heaven never take the step that will bring them to it.

Every Christian should live so that those who follow him will travel toward heaven.

It was not those who lived the nearest to the temple who were the first to follow Christ.

In proportion as a preacher fishes for compliments he loses the ability to fish for men.

Strike at the briar covered stronghold of any sin, and you will hear a hissing under it.

Believing the slander that the way to heaven is all up hill, has sent many a man to the pit.

The man who knows that he is a sinner, knows that he can never be saved without God's help.

As soon as we take a step with God we stop being worthless and begin to amount to something.

In knowing that Christ has saved him, the Christian knows that he can save everybody else.

The masses are not reached, because we find it so much easier to pray for them than to go for them.

If you want to please God, don't walk on the same side of the street with a hypocrite. (Matt. 6:16.)

No religious act should ever be performed in a way to make men think that pleasing God is hard work.

Men are lost, not so much from doing the notoriously wrong, as from neglecting to do the obviously right.

The harmless looking Babylonian garment is the coat the devil puts on when he wants to get into the heart.

St. Paul's commission didn't read that his preaching was to be done where he could get well paid for it.

God does the best thing for us, whether we like it or not, and leaves his acts to explain themselves.

Christ never cares about the size of any man's bank account when he knocks at the door of his heart.

There are plenty of promises in the Bible for those in the dark, but none for those in doubt.

The devil has to work hard in the neighborhood of the man who is praising God seven days in the week.

The wickedest thing any man can do, is to reject Christ and make a plan of salvation to suit himself.

Whenever a Christian raises his hand, whether in business or prayer, it should point straight to Christ.

Everybody with whom a Christian has dealings ought to find out that he carries the golden rule in his heart.

The devil can sleep in church when the preaching is being done by a man whose religion is all in his head.

How quick the millennium would come if we would only do today the great things we are going to do tomorrow.

The devil can sit down and rest when we have so much missionary work on hand that we cannot take time to pray in secret.

About one of the first things to happen when a man gets religion right is that he becomes a music maker in the house of the Lord.

It would puzzle an angel to make out what the man who prays two bits a year for missions, means when he prays, "Thy Kingdom come."

Inexpensive Luxuries.

Go west, young man, if your girl won't let you hug her. Out in Missouri they have introduced hugging societies to swell the church treasury, and a Missouri paper gives the following scale of prices: Girls under 16 years 15 cents a hug of 2 minutes, or 10 cents for a short squeeze; from 16 to 20 years old, 50 cents; from 20 to 25 years, 75 cents; school-maids, 40 cents; married ladies, $1; widows, from 10 cents to $3; old maids, 3 cents a hug or two hugs for a nickel, no limit to time. That is pretty inexpensive. Our mountain girls are far in advance of the Missouri market, and one of our old maids would bring more than the whole lot of 'em.

ACCIDENT INSURANCE.

Nothing Pays Better!

Want a Policy? The United States Mutual is the best and the cheapest. An outlay of $24 per year will bring you $50 a week during disability, or $10,000 to your family in the event of death. # BATTLE OF REFORMATION. "Evangeline" Takes a Sensible Appeal In Behalf of This Great Work.

There is a great work to be done, not only for man alone, but women are also called upon to enlist in this great battle of reformation, and with untiring efforts we will scarcely atom the tide. We should not be satisfied with being what fathers and mothers have been, but even more. The Spirit demands more, and you, even women, of a higher order, brighter intellect, more nobility and purity and greater courage than ever before, and who will heed the call?

Girls, I will especially appeal to you. Awake to a sense of your duty. Don't you, can't you see the work that is needed each day at every turn? Don't wait for a position to be given you to educate the heathen; you are needed at home. Let us first make our own land a land of education, liberty and purity, then we will better understand how to administer to the heathen. Let us polish our own diamonds and we will better understand how to make smooth those of another country. Let us nourish and cultivate the flowers in our own parks and we will know the better the needs of others, and oh, I beseech you, don't search for the work only in the beautiful gardens; don't carry the head so high as to step over the most beautiful flowers unseen. A lily blooming in a stagnant pool is none the less a lily full of beauty, purity and fragrance, but how many hands are eager to pluck it up because of its birth place, when, with more time, patience, energy and care, we might change the entire pool to a bed of lilies. Why are people more willing, better pleased and in a greater rush to destroy than build up? When we build our character for this generation perhaps we have reformed a household for the next.

The most learned men have not been the most successful. Some of our greatest men have walked forth from the working world, not from universities, but from hovels; not clad in fine raiment, but clothed in tattered garments, covered with the laborer's dust. So do not be discouraged, do not expect to accomplish a mighty work in one year, do not be afraid you will lose your time, kind words and earnest pleadings if you should bestow such on an unworthy object. Think how many you have benefited. Are we not commanded to cast our bread upon the waters? Shun, oh shun all scoffers of religion, and scoffers of anything that tends to enlighten and purify the mind? How many, who, when seeing a seaman clinging to the reefs of some vessel, or steering their own frail bark to shore, will help them on board, or would with only one stroke of the oar push them to shore? You should do this. There are so many young men of to-day, and girls, too, perhaps, who can just read and write, who may belong to what is called second-class families, who are scarcely thought of on account of this. Should we not encourage them to read, advise them what to read, send the journals to them, perhaps they cannot get such, but would appreciate them so much, and are clinging to life with a desire, an ambition, energy and a hope to reach that point in life, but with the sneers, rebukes and the scorn of the so-called Christian world, they are chilled to death, caused to smother their energy and ambition—caused to lose all hope for a better life, and finally caused to forget God, when with only a little time on the part of a people who not only call themselves civilized, but religious, might give them a practical education.

Oh! the blindness of men! You can look upon the unfolding of the fairest flower that ever blossomed in the human heart and be unable to distinguish it from the meanest flower that grows by the wayside. Will it always be thus? Will you not, when you meet with a young man, no matter to what family he belongs, if possessed with a talent, with a desire to be elevated, with an appetite for reading, but whose mind is starving, is perishing away for want of food, will you not administer to him? You people who are educated, the duty falls on you the greater. Lend them your advice, your experience, your papers, your books; use every means by which to lift them higher. They will have enough to contend with, enough to overcome; you should assist them all that it is your power to do.

But there are so many cold water pourers in this world who, if they see a young man whose birth place is not a palace, rising, or even trying to rise, they delight in pouring cold water, pushing them back, saying there is nothing in that family. You do not know what is in that boy; try him, help him, then there might be something in the next family, and we might finally get rid of those families that there is nothing in.

Birth and wealth can only secure popularity among a wealthy people, but that alone has never and never will secure the reverence of heart. We should not hate man by his amount of gold, but by his goodness and purity and nobleness of character. But we need never expect our reward for our energy and ambition to educate and elevate either ourselves or our fellow-man in this world, for it is a fact, but deeply to be lamented, though certainly true, that the human heart is so perverse that it oftentimes the only reward of those whose merits (even though gained by years of toil and study) is the hatred and aversion of their compatriots, but let nothing daunt you or divert you from the path of duty, engrave your name on the pages of each heart by acts of kindness, and if you have reached a higher plane of knowledge than others around you, do not be selfish with it.

The man who will not permit his wealth or store of knowledge to benefit others while living prevents himself from being benefited after death. Do not be deaf to the appeals of starving minds around you. But oh! will not you who are striving to gain a higher plane of civilization have the courage to bear all this? It is true, the way is long and the time discouraging, but what has been done can be done with a heart full of love and purity, and leaning on the arm of God, you will at last reach a point far above such envy, selfishness, and what might say egotism, and look back on the rough road of life and the travelers thereon with a kindness, a love, and sympathy, a hope and a willingness to help them shun the thorns that have pierced your feet, and say to them we all must learn—

"There is much must be borne which is hard to bear,
Much even which is sweet to keep;
God help us all who need his care,
We know the shepherd loves his sheep."

Any one who has ever had an attack of inflammatory rheumatism will rejoice with Mr. J. A. Stumm, 220 Boyle Heights, Los Angeles, over his fortunate escape from a siege of that distressing ailment. Mr. Stumm is foreman of Merriam's confectionary establishment. Some months ago, on leaving the heated work room to run across the street on an errand, he was caught out in the rain. The result was that when ready to go home that night he was unable to walk, owing to inflammatory rheumatism. He was taken home, and on arrival was placed in front of a good fire and thoroughly rubbed with Chamberlain's Pain Balm. During the evening and night he was repeatedly bathed with this liniment, and by morning was relieved of all rheumatic pains. He now takes especial pleasure in praising Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and always keeps a bottle of it in the house. For sale by J. M. Rose.
